

General Education Review Request

AREA I - HUMANITIES

Course Number & Title: JAPN 25B ADVANCED COMPOSITION & READING

Breadth Criteria:

At Foothill College, the primary objective of the general education requirements is to provide students with the depth and breadth of knowledge and understanding required to be independent, thinking persons who are able to interact successfully with others as educated and productive members of our diverse society. Design and implementation of the general education curriculum ensures that students have exposure to all major disciplines, understand relationships among the various disciplines, and appreciate and evaluate the collective knowledge and experiences that form our cultural and physical heritage. General education courses provide content that is broad in scope and at an introductory depth, and all require critical thinking.

A general education enables students to clarify and present their personal views as well as respect, evaluate, and be informed by the views of others. This academic program is designed to facilitate a process that enables students to reach their fullest potential as individuals, national and global citizens, and lifelong learners for the 21st century.

In order to be successful, students are expected to have achieved minimum proficiency in math (MATH 105) and English (ENGL 1A, 1AH or ESL 26) before enrolling in a GE course.

A completed pattern of general education courses provides students with opportunities to acquire, practice, apply, and become proficient in each of the core competencies listed below.

- B1. Communication (analytical reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills including evaluation, synthesis, and research).
- B2. Computation (application of mathematical concepts, and/or using principles of data collection and analysis to solve problems).
- B3. Creative, critical, and analytical thinking (reasoning, questioning, problem solving, and consideration of consequence).
- B4. Community and global consciousness and responsibility (consideration of one's role in society at the local, regional, national, and global level in the context of cultural constructs and historical and contemporary events and issues).
- B5. Information competency (ability to identify an information need, to find, evaluate and use information to meet that need in a legal and ethical way) and digital literacy (to teach and assess basic computer concepts and skills so that people can use computer technology in everyday life to develop new social and economic opportunities for themselves, their families, and their communities).

Depth Criteria for Area I - Humanities:

The humanities include courses in Arts and Letters that give students knowledge and understanding of significant works of the human intellect and imagination. These works cover all the varieties of human expression through time. Knowledge of the significance of the historical and cultural context in which the works are created and interpreted expands the students' awareness of the human condition, cultivating an appreciation of human values and achievements. Humanities courses should enable students to participate in social and cultural communities associated with artistic and literary endeavors, enriching their personal and professional lives.

A course meeting the Humanities requirement incorporates a multidisciplinary approach (drawing from two or more of the following - history, literature, philosophy, religion, language, and the arts) as it addresses and explores central questions about the meaning and experience of human life.

A course meeting the Humanities General Education Requirement must help students:

- H1. Acquire knowledge and understanding of significant artistic, literary, or philosophical works and the historical and cultural context in which the works were created and interpreted;
- H2. Deepen their knowledge of the human condition through systematic inquiry into consciousness, values, ideas, and ideals;
- H3. Develop appreciation for what is significant about human life and its creations;
- H4. Make reasoned judgments that reflect ethical and aesthetic human values;
- H5. Develop the ability to respond to artistic and literary works both analytically and affectively through writing as well as through other forms of artistic expression.

In addition, courses must identify how they will help students achieve at least two of the following learning outcomes:

- H6. Understanding of the ambiguities, vagaries, and value inherent in human language;
- H7. Appreciation of nonverbal communication to be found in the visual and performing arts;
- H8. Recognition of the variety of valid interpretations of artistic expression;
- H9. Appreciation of our common humanity within the context of diverse cultures;
- H10. Thinking critically, including the ability to find, recognize, analyze, evaluate, and communicate ideas, information, and opinions as they relate to the products of human intellect and imagination.

General Education Review Request

AREA I - HUMANITIES

Course Number & Title: JAPN 25B ADVANCED COMPOSITION & READING

Please map each appropriate component from the Course Outline of Record to the appropriate depth and breadth criteria. (You may draw from all areas of the outline)

Depth Map: Must include the following:

Course incorporates a multidisciplinary approach (drawing from two or more of the following: history, literature, philosophy, religion, language and the arts) as it addresses and explores central questions about the meaning and experience of human life;

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

- 1. Reading and analysis of authentic Japanese written materials intended for native Japanese readers, as exponents of the culture and history. Development of further skills in reading authentic materials, including magazines, newspaper articles, editorials, literature, and abstract theories. Recognizing more than 1,800 kanji. Practice in writing expository essays. Development of critical thinking skills by comparing different viewpoints and different values of diverse cultures. Development of reading and writing skills by exploring various forms of literary and other forms of creative thoughts. Understanding and appreciating the ambiguities, vagaries, and value inherent in the target language.
- 2-C. Interpret and distinguish subtle nuances and style differences in a wide range of reading materials.
- 2-D. Demonstrate knowledge in up-to-date aspects of Japan and her culture, differences in worldviews, customs, beliefs, social conventions, and other socio-cultural nuances.
- 4-C. Analysis of the journalistic styles in editorials.
- 4-D. Online news articles on the current situations in Japan, including politics and economics.
- 4-E. Appreciation of literary creations and aesthetic human values by reading short stories, folk tales and cultural essays.
- 4-F. Practice of thinking critically by analyzing, evaluating, and writing essays on Japanese socio-cultural issues.

H1. Acquire knowledge and understanding of significant artistic, literary, or philosophical works and the historical and cultural context in which the works were created and interpreted;

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

- 1. Reading and analysis of authentic Japanese written materials intended for native Japanese readers, as exponents of the culture and history. Development of further skills in reading authentic materials, including magazines, newspaper articles, editorials, literature, and abstract theories. Practice in writing expository essays. Development of critical thinking skills by comparing different viewpoints and different values of diverse cultures. Development of reading and writing skills by exploring various forms of literary and other forms of creative thoughts. Understanding and appreciating the ambiguities, vagaries, and value inherent in the target language.
- 4-A. Appreciation of human life and current trend by reading and analyzing magazine articles on

General Education Review Request

AREA I - HUMANITIES

Japanese culture and current issues.

4-E. Appreciation of literary creations and aesthetic human values by reading short stories, folk tales and cultural essays.

H2. Deepen their knowledge of the human condition through systematic inquiry into consciousness, values, ideas, and ideals;

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

1. Reading and analysis of authentic Japanese written materials intended for native Japanese readers, as exponents of the culture and history. Development of further skills in reading authentic materials, including magazines, newspaper articles, editorials, literature, and abstract theories. Practice in writing expository essays. Development of critical thinking skills by comparing different viewpoints and different values of diverse cultures. Development of reading and writing skills by exploring various forms of literary and other forms of creative thoughts. Understanding and appreciating the ambiguities, vagaries, and value inherent in the target language.

2-D. Demonstrate knowledge in up-to-date aspects of Japan and her culture, differences in worldviews, customs, beliefs, social conventions, and other socio-cultural nuances.

4-A. Appreciation of human life and current trend by reading and analyzing magazine articles on Japanese culture and current issues.

4-F. Practice of thinking critically by analyzing, evaluating, and writing essays on Japanese socio-cultural issues.

H3. Develop appreciation for what is significant about human life and its creations;

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

1. Reading and analysis of authentic Japanese written materials intended for native Japanese readers, as exponents of the culture and history. Development of further skills in reading authentic materials, including magazines, newspaper articles, editorials, literature, and abstract theories. Practice in writing expository essays. Development of critical thinking skills by comparing different viewpoints and different values of diverse cultures. Development of reading and writing skills by exploring various forms of literary and other forms of creative thoughts. Understanding and appreciating the ambiguities, vagaries, and value inherent in the target language.

2-D. Demonstrate knowledge in up-to-date aspects of Japan and her culture, differences in worldviews, customs, beliefs, social conventions, and other socio-cultural nuances.

2-E. Write compositions more effectively using Kanji compounds in formal writing style on a wide range of topics.

4-A. Appreciation of human life and current trend by reading and analyzing magazine articles on Japanese culture and current issues.

4-E. Appreciation of literary creations and aesthetic human values by reading short stories, folk tales and cultural essays.

General Education Review Request

AREA I - HUMANITIES

H4. Make reasoned judgments that reflect ethical and aesthetic human values;

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

1. Reading and analysis of authentic Japanese written materials intended for native Japanese readers, as exponents of the culture and history. Development of further skills in reading authentic materials, including magazines, newspaper articles, editorials, literature, and abstract theories. Practice in writing expository essays. Development of critical thinking skills by comparing different viewpoints and different values of diverse cultures. Development of reading and writing skills by exploring various forms of literary and other forms of creative thoughts. Understanding and appreciating the ambiguities, vagaries, and value inherent in the target language.

2-C. Interpret and distinguish subtle nuances and style differences in a wide range of reading materials.

2-D. Demonstrate knowledge in up-to-date aspects of Japan and her culture, differences in worldviews, customs, beliefs, social conventions, and other socio-cultural nuances.

4-A. Appreciation of human life and current trend by reading and analyzing magazine articles on Japanese culture and current issues.

4-D. Online news articles on the current situations in Japan, including politics and economics.

4-E. Appreciation of literary creations and aesthetic human values by reading short stories, folk tales and cultural essays.

4-F. Practice of thinking critically by analyzing, evaluating, and writing essays on Japanese socio-cultural issues.

H5. Develop the ability to respond to artistic and literary works both analytically and affectively through writing as well as through other forms of artistic expression.

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

1. Practice in writing expository essays. Development of critical thinking skills by comparing different viewpoints and different values of diverse cultures. Development of reading and writing skills by exploring various forms of literary and other forms of creative thoughts. Understanding and appreciating the ambiguities, vagaries, and value inherent in the target language.

2-A. Demonstrate more confidence and ability to use correct language and styles for different types of writing.

2-C. Interpret and distinguish subtle nuances and style differences in a wide range of reading materials.

2-E. Write compositions more effectively using Kanji compounds in formal writing style on a wide range of topics.

2-F. Demonstrate higher control of appropriate vocabulary, styles, and syntactical structures.

4-A. Appreciation of human life and current trend by reading and analyzing magazine articles on Japanese culture and current issues.

General Education Review Request
AREA I - HUMANITIES

4-B. Contrastive analysis of different writing styles: plain, polite, humble and respect forms.

4-C. Analysis of the journalistic styles in editorials.

4-E. Appreciation of literary creations and aesthetic human values by reading short stories, folk tales and cultural essays.

4-F. Practice of thinking critically by analyzing, evaluating, and writing essays on Japanese socio-cultural issues.

Depth Map: Additionally, must include at least two of the following:

H6. Understanding of the ambiguities, vagaries, and value inherent in human language;

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

1. Reading and analysis of authentic Japanese written materials intended for native Japanese readers, as exponents of the culture and history. Development of further skills in reading authentic materials, including magazines, newspaper articles, editorials, literature, and abstract theories. Practice in writing expository essays. Development of critical thinking skills by comparing different viewpoints and different values of diverse cultures. Development of reading and writing skills by exploring various forms of literary and other forms of creative thoughts. Understanding and appreciating the ambiguities, vagaries, and value inherent in the target language.

2-A. Demonstrate more confidence and ability to use correct language and styles for different types of writing.

2-C. Interpret and distinguish subtle nuances and style differences in a wide range of reading materials.

H7. Appreciation of nonverbal communication to be found in the visual and performing arts;

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

H8. Recognition of the variety of valid interpretations of artistic expression;

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

H9. Appreciation of our common humanity within the context of diverse cultures;

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

1. Development of critical thinking skills by comparing different viewpoints and different values of diverse cultures. Development of reading and writing skills by exploring various forms of literary and other forms of creative thoughts. Understanding and appreciating the ambiguities, vagaries, and value inherent in the target language.

2-D. Demonstrate knowledge in up-to-date aspects of Japan and her culture, differences in worldviews, customs, beliefs, social conventions, and other socio-cultural nuances.

4-F. Practice of thinking critically by analyzing, evaluating, and writing essays on Japanese socio-cultural issues.

General Education Review Request

AREA I - HUMANITIES

H10. Thinking critically, including the ability to find, recognize, analyze, evaluate, and communicate ideas, information, and opinions as they relate to the products of human intellect and imagination.

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

- 1. Practice in writing expository essays. Development of critical thinking skills by comparing different viewpoints and different values of diverse cultures. Development of reading and writing skills by exploring various forms of literary and other forms of creative thoughts. Understanding and appreciating the ambiguities, vagaries, and value inherent in the target language.
- 2-C. Interpret and distinguish subtle nuances and style differences in a wide range of reading materials.
- 2-D. Demonstrate knowledge in up-to-date aspects of Japan and her culture, differences in worldviews, customs, beliefs, social conventions, and other socio-cultural nuances.
- 4-A. Appreciation of human life and current trend by reading and analyzing magazine articles on Japanese culture and current issues.
- 4-E. Appreciation of literary creations and aesthetic human values by reading short stories, folk tales and cultural essays.
- 4-F. Practice of thinking critically by analyzing, evaluating, and writing essays on Japanese socio-cultural issues.

Breadth Mapping: please indicate all that apply (if applicable)

B1. Communication (analytical reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills including evaluation, synthesis, and research)

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

- 1. Reading and analysis of authentic Japanese written materials intended for native Japanese readers, as exponents of the culture and history. Development of further skills in reading authentic materials, including magazines, newspaper articles, editorials, literature, and abstract theories. Recognizing more than 1,800 kanji. Practice in writing expository essays. Development of critical thinking skills by comparing different viewpoints and different values of diverse cultures. Development of reading and writing skills by exploring various forms of literary and other forms of creative thoughts. Understanding and appreciating the ambiguities, vagaries, and value inherent in the target language.
- 2-A. Demonstrate more confidence and ability to use correct language and styles for different types of writing.
- 2-B. Identify and recognize more than 1,800 Kanji.
- 2-C. Interpret and distinguish subtle nuances and style differences in a wide range of reading materials.
- 2-D. Demonstrate knowledge in up-to-date aspects of Japan and her culture, differences in worldviews, customs, beliefs, social conventions, and other socio-cultural nuances.
- 2-E. Write compositions more effectively using Kanji compounds in formal writing style on a wide range of topics.

General Education Review Request
AREA I - HUMANITIES

2-F. Demonstrate higher control of appropriate vocabulary, styles, and syntactical structures.

4-A. Appreciation of human life and current trend by reading and analyzing magazine articles on Japanese culture and current issues.

4-B. Contrastive analysis of different writing styles: plain, polite, humble and respect forms.

4-C. Analysis of the journalistic styles in editorials.

4-D. Online news articles on the current situations in Japan, including politics and economics.

4-E. Appreciation of literary creations and aesthetic human values by reading short stories, folk tales and cultural essays.

4-F. Practice of thinking critically by analyzing, evaluating, and writing essays on Japanese socio-cultural issues.

4-G. Writing formal letters, such as business correspondences and resumes.

B2. Computation (application of mathematical concepts, and/or using principles of data collection and analysis to solve problems).

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

B3. Clearly and precisely express their ideas in a logical and organized manner using the discipline-appropriate language

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

1. Practice in writing expository essays. Development of critical thinking skills by comparing different viewpoints and different values of diverse cultures. Development of reading and writing skills by exploring various forms of literary and other forms of creative thoughts. Understanding and appreciating the ambiguities, vagaries, and value inherent in the target language.

2-A. Demonstrate more confidence and ability to use correct language and styles for different types of writing.

2-E. Write compositions more effectively using Kanji compounds in formal writing style on a wide range of topics.

2-F. Demonstrate higher control of appropriate vocabulary, styles, and syntactical structures.

4-B. Contrastive analysis of different writing styles: plain, polite, humble and respect forms.

4-C. Analysis of the journalistic styles in editorials.

4-F. Practice of thinking critically by analyzing, evaluating, and writing essays on Japanese socio-

General Education Review Request
AREA I - HUMANITIES

cultural issues.

4-G. Writing formal letters, such as business correspondences and resumes.

B4. Community and global consciousness and responsibility (consideration of one's role in society at the local, regional, national, and global level in the context of cultural constructs and historical and contemporary events and issues).

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

1. Reading and analysis of authentic Japanese written materials intended for native Japanese readers, as exponents of the culture and history. Practice in writing expository essays. Development of critical thinking skills by comparing different viewpoints and different values of diverse cultures.

Understanding and appreciating the ambiguities, vagaries, and value inherent in the target language.

2-D. Demonstrate knowledge in up-to-date aspects of Japan and her culture, differences in worldviews, customs, beliefs, social conventions, and other socio-cultural nuances.

4-A. Appreciation of human life and current trend by reading and analyzing magazine articles on Japanese culture and current issues.

4-D. Online news articles on the current situations in Japan, including politics and economics.

4-E. Appreciation of literary creations and aesthetic human values by reading short stories, folk tales and cultural essays.

4-F. Practice of thinking critically by analyzing, evaluating, and writing essays on Japanese socio-cultural issues.

B5. Information competency (ability to identify an information need, to find, evaluate and use information to meet that need in a legal and ethical way) and digital literacy (to teach and assess basic computer concepts and skills so that people can use computer technology in everyday life to develop new social and economic opportunities for themselves, their families, and their communities).

Supporting element(s) from the CoR:

Requesting Faculty: Ikuko Tomita

Date: 03/02/2010

Division Curr Rep: _____ Date: _____

REVIEW COMMITTEE USE ONLY:

Review Committee Members:

Joe Ragey, Sam Connell, Bernie Day

Comments:

The committee has reviewed and approved the above curriculum for HUMANITIES GENERAL

General Education Review Request
AREA I - HUMANITIES

EDUCATION.

Approved: X__ Denied:_____ CCC Co-Chair Signature: Joe Ragey_____ Date:2/8/11_____